

Library Resources for Graduate Students

The NAU Library can be accessed at <http://library.national.edu>

The screenshot shows the NAU Online Library homepage. The navigation bar includes links for Home, Find Articles, Find Books, Subject Guides, Tutorials & FAQs, APA Style, and Ask A Librarian. The 'Subject Guides' dropdown menu is open, showing categories like Business, General Studies, Graduate Studies, Health Sciences, IT/Science, Paralegal/Criminal Justice, and Veterinary Technology. The 'Graduate Studies' sub-menu is also open, listing Business Graduate Program, Education Doctoral Program, and Nursing Graduate Program. An orange arrow points from a text box to the 'Graduate Studies' option in the dropdown menu.

Use the subject guides to locate pertinent resources, all in one place.

The screenshot shows the 'Business Graduate Program' subject guide page. The page title is 'Business Graduate Program'. On the left, there is a sidebar with a list of resource types: Journal Articles, Books, Dictionaries & Encyclopedias, Videos, Websites, and Contact Grad. Librarian. A red bracket highlights the 'Books', 'Dictionaries & Encyclopedias', 'Videos', and 'Websites' items. The main content area features a search box for 'Journal Articles' with the instruction: 'Search all PROQUEST business databases simultaneously using the search box, or select from the options below.' At the bottom, there are two search options: 'Search all Ebsco business databases' and 'Use FindIT to search ALL business databases'.

Each subject guide is designed to help you quickly locate relevant materials.

Resources to help!

The image shows a screenshot of the National American University Online Library navigation bar. The bar is blue with the text "Online Library" and the National American University logo. Below the bar are several navigation links: Home, Find Articles, Find Books, Subject Guides, Tutorials & FAQs, APA Style, and Ask A Librarian. Four red arrows point from callout boxes below to the Find Articles, Tutorials & FAQs, APA Style, and Ask A Librarian links.

Navigation Link	Description
Find Articles	Links to locate full text articles via a citation or interlibrary loan.
Tutorials & FAQs	Tutorials on everything from APA style to locating scholarly articles.
APA Style	APA support materials like sample papers, reference examples, and more.
Ask A Librarian	Ask a Librarian email support 7 days per week.

You can contact Sarah Stohr, the Graduate Support Librarian, to set up research consultations or to get additional help with research. If you are struggling with the research process, please don't hesitate to reach out for assistance (sastohr@national.edu or askalibrarian@national.edu).

The Online Library also has Interlibrary Loan services available! Articles can be requested from on and off-campus students. Books can be requested only from on-campus students where the campus has a librarian. Links for ILL can be found under the "Find Articles" and "Find Books" navigation links on the library navigation toolbar.

Looking to publish your research? The library now subscribes to Cabell's Directory of Publishing, which can help guide you to appropriate publications for publishing within your field. Cabell's is available in the Journal Articles section of each graduate subject guide.

More useful links!

How to find the full text of an article from a citation

What is a peer-reviewed article AND how to find one in a library database

How to set up a personal account in ProQuest and Ebsco databases